MISSING CHILD INVESTIGATION

CORONA, CA– On March 12, 2019, at about 7:33 p.m., Corona Police Department Officers responded to the 4600 block of Temescal Canyon Road in Corona regarding an at-risk eight-year-old missing child, Noah McIntosh. Arriving officers spoke with Noah’s mother, 36-year-old Jillian Godfrey, and attempted to contact his father at a local apartment. The father, 32-year-old Bryce McIntosh, did not respond to numerous contact attempts by officers.

On March 13, 2019, at about 8:00 a.m., the Corona Police Department’s Special Response Team served a search warrant at Bryce’s residence to locate the missing boy. Bryce was located inside with his 11-year-old daughter; however, officers did not find Noah.

Based on evidence recovered during the continuing investigation, both Bryce and Jillian were arrested for child abuse.

Officers contacted Noah’s local family members, but no one can provide Noah’s current location. Noah was last seen in the 4600 block of Temescal Canyon Road approximately two weeks ago.

The Corona Police Department is seeking the public’s assistance in locating Noah’s last known whereabouts. If anyone has seen Noah within the previous two weeks, please contact Senior Detective Mario Hernandez at 951-279-3659 or Mario.Hernandez@CoronaCA.gov.
